

Media Contact: Brian Jewell
brian@30dayfreedom.com
859-396-4753

Frequently Asked Questions

How does the program work?

30 Days to Financial Freedom consists of a monthlong series of daily video lessons. Each day, users get a devotional lesson focused on their hearts, a practical lesson focused on their habits, and a demo of the Budget Genius tool. Altogether, the lessons take about 10 minutes a day.

How long does it take?

30 Days to Financial Freedom is designed as a monthlong program with a series of short daily lessons. Each day's teaching is designed to take about 10 minutes. Users also spend a little bit of time answering one question each day in the Budget Genius tool.

How long does a membership last?

Forever. When users join, they get a lifetime membership that never expires. There are no subscriptions, renewals or continual payments. Membership includes full access to all course materials in perpetuity, so students can go back to any lesson as many times as they want.

What if it takes longer than a month to finish?

No problem. 30 Days to Financial Freedom is designed to finish in as little as a month, but users can go at their own pace. Memberships lasts forever, so students can take as much time as they want and go back to each lesson as many times as they need.

How much does it cost?

Lifetime memberships cost $99 and include all video lessons, a digital course workbook, social sharing tools and the Budget Genius. Discounted group plans are available beginning with four users.

Can users take the course on their phones?

Yes. The daily video lessons work great on mobile devices. For Budget Genius assignments, it's easier to use a desktop or laptop computer.

What is the Budget Genius?

Included in every 30 Days to Financial Freedom membership, the Budget Genius is a unique tool that builds a personalized financial plan for users automatically. Students answer one question a day, and the Budget Genius creates personalized budget, savings goals and debt payoff plans based on their unique situations.

Do users need special software to use the Budget Genius?

The Budget Genius is built as a customized spreadsheet. It's available as an Excel document (for Microsoft Office users) or as a Google Sheet (free with any Google account).

How is 30 Days to Financial Freedom different than other programs?

There are many great options out there for people interested in improving their finances, but 30 Days to Financial Freedom is the only one built for busy, modern life. Students can finish the entire program in one month through a series of daily video lessons that take about 10 minutes. There are no materials to order, no groups to join, no classes to attend and no subscriptions to renew. And 30 Days to Financial Freedom is the only program with the Budget Genius, the tool that builds personalized budgets automatically as users answer one simple question a day. With other programs, participants have to create budgets on their own, which can take hours and involve lots of frustrating math.

What is the refund policy?

30 Days to Financial Freedom offers a risk-free guarantee: If the program doesn't help users eliminate financial stress, they can request a full refund with no questions asked.

Is the program available for groups?

Yes. 30 Days to Financial Freedom offers discounted memberships for groups of four or more. Churches and other organizations can also opt for unlimited subscriptions, which allow them to offer 30 Days to Financial Freedom to all of their members, customers or staff for one low price. All group packages and subscriptions include group leader tools that allow leaders to add students, track their progress and follow up with them if they need support.

Is this a faith-based program?

Yes. 30 Days to Financial Freedom is built around teachings found in the Bible and communicates from a Christian worldview. However, the program offers plenty of helpful information and unique tools for all kinds of people, so users don't need to self-identify as Christian in order to benefit from it. The fundamental principles in this program will improve a member's financial life regardless of their religious affiliation.

Where can I learn more?

Visit www.30dayfreedom.com or email press@30dayfreedom.com.